The Compensation of Government Employes.

During the consideration of the civil and diplo matic appropriation bill in the House of Representatives yesterday, Mr. Gentry moved to insert in the bill the following:

" Be it further enacted, That the clerks, messengers, watchmen, and laborers employed at an executive and legislative departments of the gov-ernment in the city of Washington, whose compensation does not exceed two thousand dollars per annum, shall, in addition thereto, be allowed the following annual increase of compensation. commencing from the first day of the last fiscal not exceed twelve hundred dollars, twenty per all whose annual compensation exceeds twelve hundred and does not exceed sixteen hundred dollars, an addition of fifteen per cent.; and all whose annual compensation exceeds sixteen hundred and does not exceed two thousand dollars, an addition of ten per cent. And that the amount of increased compensation provided for in this section shall be paid out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Mr. Gentry ably sustained this motion. It was opposed by Mr. Dunham because further changes were necessary, although he admitted that But what sound thinking mind regarded that as there was a necessity for a change. Mr. Brown, of Mississippi, spoke truly and feelingly on the subject. Experience had taught him the inadequacy of the present compensation. Mr. Fowler admitted the present high prices of living, but recommended frugality and economy to individual officers! Mr. Dean was in favor of the proposition, but wished to guard against abuses. Mr. Gorman ally sustained the proposition. Mr. Johnson, of Tennessee, wished to give the benefit of any increase to afechanics and laborers also in the service of the government, (and we regret that this was not well considered.) Mr. Skelton opposed, and Messrs. Chandler and part of it which applied to clerks who received a salary of a thousand dollars a year, which prevailed; and so the House adjourned.

There are difficulties around this thing, it is plain; but the members of the House of Representatives are well disposed toward the main proposition, and we earnestly hope it may pre-

P. S.-The House has to-day disposed of the subject by adding twenty per cent, to the salatwelve hundred dollars, to commence with the present fiscal year, July 1. This is well, and pretty much of an equalizer too!

SENATE .- Mr. BRADBURY made a personal explanation, in which he denied that he prepared the amendment to the supplemental Census act, out of which the difficulty respecting the salary of the Superintendent of the Census has arisen. Mr. Davis reported back the river and harbor bill, with amendments increasing the appropriations in the sum of $160,000. A resolution to amend the rules by repealing the prohibition of private claims being added to the appropriation bills, was taken up, debated, and rejected.

The Indian appropriation bill was taken up, and amendments were debated.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES .- The morning hour was consumed in the consideration of the bill to regulate the costs and fees of attorneys, marshals, and clerks, in the circuit and district courts of the United States.

The general appropriation bill was taken up in Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union. After debate and the offering of amendments, the proposition of Mr. GENTRY, offered vesterday, was altered so that twenty per cent. shall be given to those only whose annual compensation does not exceed $1,200, commencing with the present fiscal year.

After passing upon many amendments, the Committee rose, and the bill was reported to the House, which proceeded to vote on concurring in the amendments agreed to in Committee.

Now, we have a little fact for the Union which possibly it may believe. In its own columns, of November 26, 1850, the proceedings are given of a meeting at Manchester, New Hampshire, over which GEN. That was a temperate resolution, and seemingly not calculated to excite the feelings of any one on the slavery question. But, somehow, General Pierce did become excited, and his speech is thus reported in the Union of the above date:

A Democratic Procession.

Extensive notice had been given, and the banier was streaming all yesterday from the front of the Democratic headquarters in this city, and last evening our streets echoed the martial strains of the Democracy, who were rallying to unite with their brethren in Georgetown in a "grand demonstration." We had not the pleasure of witnessing the procession; but a gentle man who had has furnished us with the follow ing graphic description :

1. Plateon of four-umbrellas shouldered. 2. Three fifers, two small drummers, and big one.

3. Banner-" Frank Pierce, the soldier and and statesman."

After these followed a procession of full fifty men and boys, carrying two more banners (or transparencies)-upon one of them, a soldier, at front face and shoulder arms, with the inscription, "In a year I'll be a citizen:" reverse-man ploughing-" In twenty-one years I'll be a citizen." The last banner displayed the chicken cock on one side, and Greeley & Co. spitting on the platform on the other-" We endorse the nomination and spit upon the platform."

The procession was a very appropriate one t tote round a batch of caricatures; for we are assured that in its tout ensemble it involuntarily suggested the idea of a most perfect caricature!

Mr. Gorman, of Indiana, who entertained the audience with a speech of some hour or more in length He discussed several old and obsolete measures, such as a bank, the distribution of the proceeds of the public lands, bankrupt law, &c.; finally he reached the tariff. While on this question he forcibly reminded us of an old rat nibbling at the beit of a trap, anxious for the tempting morsel, but very apprehensive of danger. He finally wound up with quite an exciting harangue to the people of Virginia and Maryland upon the subect of slavery.

A colleague of Mr. Gorman, Mr. Dunham, wathen introduced. This gentleman's speech would have answered very well for a 4th of July address to boys who had never studied their country's which, for modesty's sake, we omit.

Mears, Mortimer & Movolray: Gentlemen: It is with real pleasure that I am able to attest to the general healing and curative powers of Dr. Hampton's Vegetable Tincture. Sometime during last November I was taken with a very bad and seriouc cough. I was advised to take Cod-laver Oil, and did so; butgetting no better, I was induced to try your Tincture. I got one bottle, and before I had used it all my cough left me. Permit me also to state that, for the last fifteen years, I have suffered very much from Acute Rheumatism and Vertigo, confining me at times to my bed. I am fully convineed that I owe my present good health to the use of the Tincture, and a kind Providence.

You are, my friends, at liberty to use this as you may think proper; and believe me, yours, very respectfully.

Our readers have hardly noticed the nodest Vegetable Tincture, the value of which was first found out by one Jesse Hampton, an emigrant to Kentucky n 1770, and by him shown to Mortimer & Mowbray, of Baltimore, in Maryland, who diligently prepare it and appoint agents for its sale here and elsewhere. The value of this Vegetable Tincture to the people consists in its performing the most wonderful cures of all Scrofalous complaints and diseases arising from the impurity of the blood and obstructions in the various functions of the animal system. Messrs. Mortimer & Monchray: Gents: Last September I was attacked with erystpeins, from which a drendful ulcer formed on my right leg. Gutting better of this, last November I took a deep coid, which led to what my physician told me was billous pleurisy, which left ine with a constant, deeply-seated, and painful cough, having no rest day or night, and constantly throwing up from my lungs a thick matter. I became much emaclated, growing weaker every day, and keeping my bed the greater part of the time. My friends thought I had the consumption, and at times I was also of the same opinion. At this stage of my disease, after having tried many and various remedies, without success, a friend advised me to try DR. HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE, and procured me a bottle, which I now pronounce the greatest medicine I ever took. Before I had taken half the contents of one bottle I felt much improved; and now, having taken but too bottes, my cough and pairs have entirely left me, and I am enabled to attend to business. I can truly say that, with the blessing of God, I have been restored to the health I now enjoy by the use of this most invaluable medicine. Yours,
